

THE PRINCESS & THE DRAGON

Jenna wakes in an abandoned asylum wearing a glued-on princess mask. She must find the missing pages from a storybook through a series of escape room like challenges while being hunted by the Dragon - a masked figure with weapons stitched to his hands. She discovers her friend Rebecca dead among other costumed corpses. The entire ordeal is orchestrated by Dr. Storybook as part of his twisted "Storybook Program" therapy. After killing the Dragon (another trapped patient), Jenna finds a gun with one bullet but refuses to use it. Dr. Storybook captures and transforms her into the new Dragon.

THE HANDS THAT FEEDS US

TRAILER

SCREENER (Password: THTFU)

Devon Cooke sets out to understand why his dream of becoming a farmer feels so out of reach. Traveling across Canada, he lives and works alongside farmers, discovering the resilience and resourcefulness needed to survive in modern agriculture. As Devon rebuilds his sense of purpose after a painful breakup, he reconnects with a rural way of life that challenges the expectations of a nine-to-five existence. He begins to question whether wealth is defined by income or by fulfillment. Farmers cherish the land and the communities they sustain, yet many must work off-farm jobs just to afford to stay where they belong.

PAT ROCCO DARED

TRAILER

In the 1970s, Playboy magazine dubbed Pat Rocco the "King of the Nudies," but his story goes far beyond the erotic films that first brought him fame. Rocco is an activist, artist, filmmaker, and entertainer — the full Hollywood package with one more remarkable story to tell: his own. He arrived in Hollywood with his parents at the age of eleven, growing up in the shadow of the silver screen. By seventeen, he knew he was gay, had moved out on his own, and was living openly as a young gay man — in 1951, long before such visibility was accepted or even safe. From these beginnings, Rocco would go on to become a pioneering voice in queer cinema and a tireless advocate for representation, community, and pride.

THE LAST STOP: CANADA'S LOST LOCOMOTIVE

TRAILER

In 1947, a dangerous shipping incident ended with an entire train sinking to the depths of Slocan Lake. 75 years later, a diver and his team set out to locate and extract this historic steam locomotive, aided by one of the wreck's living survivors, a 99-year-old brakeman who was on the train that fateful day. Battling the elements in one of Canada's deepest lakes, with depths of up to 1000 ft., the grueling expedition tests even the hardest members of the crew. But as the search goes on, the team stumbles upon a more intimate discovery surrounding the townsfolk who call these remote mountains in British Columbia home.

BREAD IN THE BONES

TRAILER

SCREENER (Password: gh3g)

Stories of work and play, of love and loss... and bread. For over ten thousand years, bread has been at the heart of human life, a witness to history, culture, and creativity. This essay documentary brings bread to the forefront, exploring its deep connections to politics, poetry, and pleasure. Through the humble loaf, the film weaves stories of sex and death, immigration and refugees, social justice and art. Love it or hate it, everyone has a relationship with bread. Animated by the wild energy of yeast, perhaps our first companion organism, bread becomes a metaphor for transformation, mirroring life itself. Filmed in Canada, the U.S., and across Europe, this is a rich, evocative journey into a food that continues to define who we are.

17 AND LIFE DOESN'T WAIT

TRAILER

17 And Life Doesn't Wait offers a raw, heartfelt, and deeply human look at what it means to come of age in an uncertain world. Told through the eyes of three teen girls, the film captures the exhilaration and turmoil of their final year of high school with striking intimacy. Shot over nine months, it follows them through moments big and small — from late-night laughter and friendship drama to the anxiety of college applications and the thrill of senior prom. Along the way, they navigate family tensions, heartbreak, and questions of identity, while also processing the collective trauma of events like the Parkland school shooting. Candid, emotional, and unflinchingly honest, the film is both a snapshot of youth on the brink of adulthood and a reflection of a generation growing up in a rapidly changing world.

I AM WHAT I PLAY

SCREENER (Password: hangtheDJ)

I Am What I Play chronicles the rise, reign, and reinvention of four iconic North American radio disc jockeys who helped shape the golden era of rock radio. At a time when DJs ruled the airwaves, they enjoyed creative freedom, star power, and personal connections with some of the biggest artists in music history. But as the industry shifted toward corporate control and digital media transformed how audiences engage with sound, these once-revolutionary voices faced a changing landscape. Through personal stories, archival footage, and unforgettable music moments, the film explores the evolution of free-form radio—and asks whether its rebellious spirit has truly faded, or simply found new life in unexpected places.
